

SERIES NEARING AN END

HOOSIERS STILL HAVE ANOTHER WEEK OF GAMES AT HOME.

Pitchers Have Rounded Into Shape, but the Champions Are Battling Poorly—St. Paul in the Race.

The long series at home which opened June 5 is nearing an end and the Indianapolis team is still in third place. The "Hoosiers" position might have been improved had all the games been played, for up to date they have won a majority of the games played at home during the present home series. They have all the coming week at home, including a game at Muncie to-day with St. Paul and one next Sunday with Toledo. To-morrow is an open day in the American Association, but the contest postponed from last Friday will be played at Washington Park. It will be a "ladies" day, and no doubt a large crowd will witness the last game of the series with St. Paul.

There is not a team in the American Association that has a license to win a large majority of the games played with St. Paul. Manager Kelly has a great aggregation of ball players and the Saints should stand ahead of Milwaukee in the final round-up. Indianapolis will not doubt have to beat St. Paul out to get a clutch on the 1903 pennant. With the game at Muncie to-day and the one here to-morrow the Hoosiers have a chance of taking a majority of the series.

The Indianapolis players have improved in fielding since they returned from the Western trip, but their batting is still rather weak. They must get their eyes on the ball if they expect to climb into first place. The fans are much pleased over the improvement of the pitchers. Every man is in condition and the team is able to pitch good ball all during the game, even should the opposing aggregation get a slight lead. McFarland has been a good ball, but it has been noticed that when men are on bases he is not as effective as when everything is coming his way. Kellum, Ford and Williams can pitch just as effectively when men are on bases as they can when the batters are retired and it is to be hoped that McFarland will show a little more nerve in the future.

Manager Watkins is determined to start the Sunday game at Muncie with a victory, and he will probably send Kellum to the box this afternoon against St. Paul. The teams will leave Indianapolis at 9 o'clock this morning in a special car.

The American Association magnates have upheld the action of President Hickey in assessing a fine of $500 to Manager Cantillon, of the Milwaukee team for withdrawing his team from the field in the last game in Indianapolis. It seems the penalty was not enough for such an action. Ball teams have been withdrawn from the field because of a dispute arising over an alleged bad decision by the umpire, but for a manager to refrain from obeying the umpire's instructions regarding coaching from the bench and then withdrawing his team before the first half of the first inning had been finished shows there is a decided streak of yellow in the makeup of the Milwaukee manager. With the Milwaukee club having to pay an additional fine of $500 for forfeiting the game the magnates might have considered the penalty was large enough, but it requires more than the $500 to reimburse the Indianapolis club for the loss of the game and the occurrence at the park.

John T. Brush is unalterably opposed to a merger of the National and American leagues into a twelve-club organization. In discussing the matter Mr. Brush has said: "Ban Johnson and Garry Herrmann cannot frame up anything for me. It was not so long ago that Ban Johnson and American League boomers in general threw up both hands whenever a twelve-club league was even hinted at. Heretofore they have been horrified at the bare mention of it. What has caused this sudden change of front? There must be some reason for Johnson's new scheme, and possibly it can be found right in his own organization. The National League is all right—never was more prosperous—so why should it look for consolidation? Mr. Herrmann is a large-hearted, good-natured gentleman, but he has not been in baseball long enough to fully understand it. When he was coaching Sam Crawford to the Detroit club in the interest of peace and good will, Mr. Herrmann has put the Cincinnati club in a deep and big hole by his kindness. If the Cincinnati club had Crawford now it would have one of the best outfielders in the country and still have Kelley on first base. That shows how far Mr. Herrmann looks ahead in baseball. Again, Mr. Herrmann formulated a schedule last winter that called for an interchange of games between the National and American leagues during the championship season. This looked very nice to him on paper, but it was not feasible. It could not be done with any degree of reason, still it was an olive branch swish, and Garry got lots of credit for it until he was rudely awakened by reasonable facts. Now Mr. Herrmann may have some rosy idea of his own, possibly painted by Ban Johnson, about a twelve-club league, but he is only 'dreaming again'."

Baseball Notes.
Billy Gilbert leads the National League in sacrifice hitting.

The Pittsburgh have enjoyed five Sunday rests in four years.

Jesse Burgett is growing in popularity all around the League.

Ned Hanlon says his Brooklyn players lack baseball brains.

Cleveland has, without doubt, the best pitching staff in either league.

Dunleavy and McFarland are the only reliable pitchers on the St. Louis National staff.

Pittsburg critics say that Ritchey is playing rather dopey ball. He thinks too slowly.

Boston has the American League season record for consecutive victories—ten straight.

Amos Scott is pitching good ball for Terre Haute that he may be drafted into fast company.

Brenahan, Mortes, Warner, Browne, Bowerman and Lander, of New York, have all batted over .300.

Casey and Harley are now the victims of snail stunts in Chicago. They were whipped a little while ago.

Mathewson is pitching far better ball now than in his first year in the National, when he was a star.

It would be hard to improve Cleveland's outfield. McCarthy, Bay and Flick are all covering their positions in splendid style.

Loftus offered to trade DeLahanty and Casey for Williams and Gansel, but Manager Griffith promptly turned down the offer.

President Gordon and Frank Farrell both deny that there is any truth in stories that they are dissatisfied with Griffith's management.

Dan McGinnis leads the National League in stolen bases. Browne, of New York, and Beaumont, of Pittsburgh, are the leading run getters.

Pitcher Carrick, of Toledo, who was reported signed by the Philadelphia club, has gone to the Pacific coast to join the Seattle outlaws club.

Pitcher Mathewson has given up his journalistic efforts. He is confining himself entirely to playing baseball and promises to write the game no more.

Jimmy Callahan says third base is a snap since all fouls go on strikes. Now the left-handed batters hit out and bunt, but for some reason the attendance there has not been what was expected.

Twenty-six men are batting .300 or better in the National League. Of these, New York has six, Brooklyn has four, Cincinnati and Philadelphia two each, St. Louis and Boston one.

CLINTON INTO THE GAME. HE EXERCISES HIS

ROYAL PREROGATIVE WITHOUT HEARING A WHIMPER FROM THE PART OF MANAGER ARMOUR.

Twenty-seven men are batting .300 or better in the American League. Of these, Chicago has four, Boston four, Detroit four, the Athletics four, Cleveland four, St. Louis four, New York only one—Jimmy Williams—and Washington two.

Bobby Quinn, at one time a good catcher, but now business manager of the Columbus club, is to take a team of American Association stars on a tour through New Mexico and other Western points the coming fall.

St. Paul's great infielder, Miller Huggins, continues to play ball of the kind that makes the big teams want him. Huggins does not wish to be promoted. Not only does he get a good salary where he is, but he and his brother have advertising and peanut privileges which are not to be despised.

Manager Cantillon says the major league clubs are already casting covetous eyes on his players. Comiskey wants Third Baseman Jiggs Donohue, Cleveland and Cincinnati are also feeling for other players.

President Bement, of the Central League, does not seem to be able to keep a corps of umpires during the season. He has had four days without one. Krieg has telegraphed his resignation, as has Kenney. Badger, who was released as first baseman by Terre Haute, has been signed as an umpire. Morrisey, of Columbus, O., and Broderick, of Indianapolis, have been offered positions as umpires.

Charles Comiskey has commenced casting about for young players for 1904. He has been keeping tabs on outfielder Dunleavy, of the Milwaukee Association club, and if "Commy" could secure the young man now he would pay Manager Cantillon a liberal sum for his release. However, none of the Milwaukee players is for sale, but if Comiskey desires to secure men for next year he will probably have first call, as Cantillon is very close to the old Roman.

With the Amateurs.
The Duesseldorfers will play at Tipton to-day. Holland will do the pitching. Next Sunday they will meet the Elwood team and on July 4 will play Greenfield at Washington Park, this city.

The second team of the Atkins saw works yesterday defeated the Atkins Specials by a score of 15 to 10. The battery work of Bear and Moran and the home run of Mathews were features of the game.

At Spring Lake Park this afternoon the Marion Ows and the Greenfield teams will play. The game will be called at 3 o'clock. The last game between these teams was an eleven-inning contest and was won by Marion.

ARMY POST BOULEVARD

PARK BOARD WILL MEET AT COMMERCIAL CLUB WEDNESDAY.
Interested Property Owners Have Been Asked to Attend the Meeting—Plans in View.

A meeting of the Park Board will be held Wednesday at 12 o'clock at the Commercial Club. The important question to be discussed will be the boulevard route to the army post about ten miles northeast of the city. Two routes have been proposed, both of which are desirable, and the property owners along each are interested in the selection. All the property owners have been invited to the meeting, Wednesday, and will join in the discussion of the route.

The army post is a large tract of land about three miles east of Millersville. Although now well cultivated and flourishing farm land it will ultimately be made into an army post. The routes proposed are known as the Glen Ethel route, by way of Major Richards' property, which bears that name, and the Mt. Noto route, which runs through the hills. The property holders are very anxious that the boulevard be constructed and some are even willing to make appropriations. Fifteen thousand dollars has already been voted for the Glen Ethel route, and the Mt. Noto route, which is desirous that that route be chosen and says if it is he will build a large country home on the knob of the hill. The boulevard will go out the Allisonville road and return by one of the proposed courses.

SPENT WEEK IN ST. LOUIS

PRESIDENT GILBERT THERE WITH THE BUILDING COMMITTEE.
In a Letter to Secretary Alexander Mr. Gilbert Says Much Information Has Been Secured.

Newton W. Gilbert, president of the Louisiana Purchase Exposition Commission of Indiana, with the building committee and other members of the commission, spent part of last week at St. Louis. In a letter to Secretary Alexander Mr. Gilbert says the members secured information that will be valuable to the commission. Although the president did not state the purpose of the visit to St. Louis, the secretary thinks it was in regard to the contemplated change of Indiana's location at the fair.

It is probable that the excursion of the commission into the counties of Monroe and Lawrence to visit the different stone quarries will have to be indefinitely postponed, on account of the labor troubles at the quarries. The commission was to have left this city next Wednesday over the Monon, and a meeting was to have been held at West Baden Wednesday night. W. W. Weeks, of Bloomington, chairman of the building stone committee, one of the commission's subcommittees, notified the secretary that it will likely be necessary to postpone the trip. However, he will leave the city tomorrow morning more definitely about the matter.

HAUCK GETS A BED.

Strange Looking Individual That Attracted Attention on the Street.

Among the Saturday night arrests there was one odd and eccentric appearing individual who gave the name of Charles Hauck and was charged with loitering. He was a typical Happy Hooligan and the shattered and forlorn looking grip he carried helped to carry out the idea.

Hauck said his home was in Rushville and he named a number of persons whom he claimed to know in that place. He told a rambling story of his wanderings, explaining that he had gone from Hendricks county to the southern part of Indiana from whence he walked into Indianapolis last evening. When he first arrived here he applied at the Salvation Army for a bed, but the cost of lodging there is 10 cents more money than he possessed. He then made his way up Illinois street and many turned to gaze after the stranger as he passed along. When he got to Washington street Patrolman Anderson was encountered and as Hauck could not give an account of himself the wagon was called and he was sent to the station.

The grip that Hauck carried contained a number of books and a good deal of literature of various kinds. He said he was a writer.

LOCKERIE-STREET FAIR.

The Lockerie street fair will be held Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week for the benefit of the Fresh Air Mission and nearly all the preliminary arrangements have been completed.

A new poem called "Lockerie Street Fair" has been written by James Whitcomb Riley, and is kept secret until the opening of the outdoor entertainment will be in charge of Dr. Edgar Kiser and those now announced are Mrs. High McGibbeny and Miss Josephine Manning. The chairman of the committee on arrangements is Miss Lavinia Oakes.

BRYAN CAUSES BIG STIR

HIS SWIFT PASSAGE THROUGH THE CITY STARTS TROUBLE.

The Democratic Organ Is Much Perturbed Over Rumors—Reply to an Editorial Attack.

The local Democratic organ is endeavoring so strenuously to arouse enthusiasm over the visit of William J. Bryan to Indiana to-morrow and his speech at Greenfield to-morrow night that the Indiana Democratic Club will send a reception committee to the station to meet the former presidential candidate and escort him to Greenfield. Mr. Bryan will be taken to Greenfield in a special interurban car, one end of which will be reserved for the Greenfield Band and the other for the distinguished guest and the committee. The Indiana Democratic Club will go to Greenfield in a body.

The committee is composed of James W. Mettlen, Dr. L. N. Howard, P. J. Keliher, Charles H. Gauss, S. P. Dixon, Flavius J. Van Vorhis, John R. Duncan, David Brumbaugh, George Liebrich, Romeo Stewart, Fred Helfenberger, Theodore F. Harrison and Frank A. Favre.

The Democratic organ in its yesterday's issue says that some one, evidently a Republican, had been guilty of the mean trick of starting a rumor that an admission fee would be charged at the Greenfield meeting. This rumor is denied. Mr. Bryan's speech will be free to all comers.

The Indiana Silver Club, pre-eminently a Bryan organization, held a meeting last night to discuss the question of participating in the Greenfield "demonstration." The organ also took occasion yesterday to make editorial attack on Governor Durbin, charging him with attempting to embarrass Mr. Bryan by inviting him to be his guest while in Indianapolis and then leaving the city and State two days before Bryan's arrival. Attention was called to this editorial yesterday at the Governor's office by Secretary George B. Lockwood, who said:

"Governor Durbin invited Mr. Bryan to be his guest if he came to Indianapolis this week to attend the Modern Woodmen convention, as it had been announced he would be here. Mr. Bryan replied that he would not be here for the convention and did not know when he would visit Indianapolis. The Sentinel is in possession of these facts, but persists in maliciously perverting them in an effort to throw discredit on the Governor. I cannot conceive of a more contemptible trick than this misrepresentation by the Sentinel."

SOLOISTS FOR FAIR BANK.

Miss Mabel Casey and Rees V. Prosser will fill an engagement this week. Miss Casey was formerly with the Metropolitan Opera Company, and next season will be the prima donna with the "Crystal Slipper" Opera Company, one of the

SALVAGE CORPS MAY QUIT.

Herman F. Newman, superintendent of the salvage corps in this city, is discouraged. Unless the underwriters come to the support of the corps at once, Newman will remove his wagons to Cleveland, where his services have been requested. The life of the corps in Indianapolis has been a hard one, and Newman says he has had a hard time. He came here a year ago from Cincinnati and opened quarters on Maryland street. Later he moved to a building on South street. He had the promise of the underwriters' support, he says, but they failed and Newman has had a hard time. The corps has proved valuable in several cases, the estimate of property saved being not less than $100,000.

$1,000 for Butler College.

The secretary of Butler College has received a check for $1,000 from A. F. Armstrong, of Kokomo, formerly a trustee of the college, in partial payment of a former subscription to the endowment of the college. Newman has had a hard time. He came here a year ago from Cincinnati and opened quarters on Maryland street. Later he moved to a building on South street. He had the promise of the underwriters' support, he says, but they failed and Newman has had a hard time. The corps has proved valuable in several cases, the estimate of property saved being not less than $100,000.

BISHOP TURNER REBUKED.

He Is Not in a Position to Indulge in Criticisms of the Nation.

The Indianapolis World, a paper published by a colored man, administers a well-deserved reproof to Bishop Turner for a recent ill-judged speech. It says: "The address of the senior bishop of the A. M. E. Church was punctuated with a statement: 'I thank God I never shed a drop of blood for a nation so hard and so contemptible toward the negro. The only thing the negro has is the church, and he is not half attending to that.' Bishop H.

STUBBORNNESS OF MINERS

SIX HUNDRED MEN AT LINTON REFUSE TO GO TO WORK.

At This Time They Are Defying an Order Issued from Mine Workers' Headquarters.

It now appears that the trouble among the Island Coal Company's miners is not such a simple problem as was at first supposed. The Island Coal Company has turned the management of the whole affair over to the United Mine Workers, who have not yet brought about a settlement. There are over six hundred miners striking at the Linton mines on account of the discharge of one of the men who did not enforce the standard rules. The men are striking in strict violation of their contract with the coal company and in the settlement of the strike the union hopes to make a precedent for other miners not observing their contracts.

There are three local unions among the miners, each bound by the same contract. When the handling of the strike was given to the mine workers in the middle of the week, each union was losing $25. Considering that the men are losing over twenty-five thousand dollars every day in wages, this sum is not a drop in the bucket and had no effect towards the restoration of the miners at the mines. The coal company thinks that a per capita fine would carry the necessary force. Word was Friday night ordering the miners to go to work at once, but word was received at the office of the Island Coal Company yesterday morning that the men had not obeyed. It is probable that if the miners remain stubborn they will be threatened with the withdrawal of their charter.

GEOLOGIST IS POPULAR.

He Furnishes Balm for Many Ills to Indiana People.

When a man discovers a phenomena of nature in his neighborhood about the first thing he does is to write to the state geologist. If he discovers a peculiarly-shaped rock in his pasture the geologist must pass on it, and if he finds that a singularly-formed bug is attacking his plants he writes a letter to the geologist. In Indiana Geologist Blatchley is a vastly popular man because he has a prodigious knowledge of the roots of his melons. Last year, he said, his entire crop was destroyed by them. This year they are at work again. The geologist has known of these lice attacking the leaves of the melon vines, but he had never heard of them assailing the roots. However, there was no mistaking the fact that the pests are genuine, and the geologist, being a resourceful man, wrote to his friend Webster, of the Department of Agriculture, for a suggestion as to what would drive them away. Webster replied that "whale-oil soap will do the work. His suggestion is to dissolve a pound of this soap in six gallons of water and drench the roots."
